Grosplan
Dr. G. Engelmann, St. Louis (Mo.)

Dear Doctor,

I am in receipt of a letter from of M. Billieux of Paris begging me to express you his best thanks for the kind information you gave me for him on the "Oidium" and some other fungoid diseases of the vine.

According to his wishes also, I forwarded you the day before yesterday, from Chicago, some pamphlets he has recently published on similar subjects.
He will send you soon a new publication on the "Mildew" (Peronospora), and, in advance, has enclosed in the collection of pamphlets, some engravings whose explanation accompanies this letter. There he specially calls your attention on a new form of development of the Perono-

- you, being anxious to know if such thing has already been found in the St. Louis vineyards.

He ends his letter by saying:

"Je serais fort heureux si M. le Dr. Engelmann voulait bien me tenir au courant de ce que l'on publie aux Etats-Unis sur les maladies des plantes. Je me ferais très-volontiers son interprète soit auprès de la Société botanique, soit auprès de la Société Nationale d'Agriculture."

With our renewed thanks, please, accept, dear Sir, my kindest regards, and believe me,

Very respectfully yours,

Henry Rozjean
